their quarters in Neuruppin until September.

Training was conducted at both the barracks installations and the StorbeckGentarode post training grounds and in the Walleben area west of the training grounds. The new rocket launchers seen at the See Kasenne possibly belong to the 226th Morter Regt of the division. A small number of these guns were previously seen with other morter regiments in the Soviet Zone of Germany. The supply officers at the Fridericus Kasenne are known except Kadelnikov (fnu). Units of the division with which they can be identified and which thus can be confirmed in Neuruppin until 19 September 1953 include Unit Lieutenant Colonel Dranov or Dronov (fnu) with the 49th Gds Tank Regt; Unit Lieutenant Colonel Kovalenko (fnu) with the 66th Gds Tank Regt; Unit
